

Prof. Andrzej Napieralski

Curriculum vitae

Andrzej NAPIERALSKI was born in Lodz, Poland, on December 29, 1950. He received the M.Sc. and Ph.D. degrees from the Technical University of Lodz in 1973 and 1977, respectively, and a D.Sc. degree in electronics from the Warsaw University of Technology (Poland) and in microelectronics from the Université de Paul Sabatié (France), both in 1989.

From 1973 to 1978 he was with the Institute of Electronics, Technical University of Lodz. In 1983 he joined LAAS-CNRS in Toulouse, France, working on gold doping influence on the parameters of high-power semiconductor devices. From 1984 to 1985 he was the lecturer in the Institut des Télécommunications d'Oran (Algeria). From 1985 to 1991 he was a member of the research team on power devices at the Laboratoire d'Automatique et d'Analyse des Systèmes du Centre National de la Recherche Scientifique (LAAS-CNRS), Toulouse, and Visiting Professor at the Institut National des Sciences Appliquées de Toulouse (INSAT). Since October 1991 he has been a Professor at the Technical University of Lodz. From 1992 to 1996 he was the Vice-Director of the Institute of Electronics and since 1996 he has been a Head of the Department of Microelectronics and Computer Science. In 2002 he has been elected and in 2005 reelected as the Vice-Rector for Promotion and International Co-operation. In 1995 he received the title of Professor and become the Tenured Professor in 1999.

He was invited to many important universities and research centers in Belgium, Denmark, Finland, France, Spain, Switzerland, Italy, United Kingdom, Tunisia, Canada and the USA. He gave many lectures and conducted several laboratories. He is an author or co-author of over 1150 publications. He supervised 57 PhD theses; six of them received the prize of the Prime Minister of Poland. He participated in over 20 international and over 50 national projects.

In 2003 in Brussels he received the Commander Cross “Merite d’Invention” of the Kingdom of Belgium. In 2004 he received Gold WIPO Medal (World Intellectual Property Organization). Furthermore, he received many national and university awards. In 2008 he received the Degree of Honorary Doctor of Yaroslaw the Wise Novgorod State University.

January, 2020